All lectures will commence at 7.30 pm

Lecture 1: Dr. Tom Ryan 7.30 pm Tuesday 22nd October 2013

Title: Tom Ryan; Painter, a Working Life

Our speaker continues to play a significant role in the creative life of the country through his Art and his commitment to serving on numerous boards promoting the Arts in various forms. He will be speaking on a life time of painting and drawing and will have illustrations of his work to show us.

Lecture 2: Ms Mary Russell 7.30 pm Tuesday 5th November 2013

Title: Kerry's gold: how Irish butter reached the sugar island of Antigua in the 18th Century

As a traveller and social commentator over many years Mary has developed a unique sense of history and the connectedness of things. Her story for this evening began with finding an Irish butter box in Antigua!

Lecture 3: Ms Imogen Stuart 7.30 pm Tuesday 19th November 2013

Title: The form of Things

Since coming to Ireland from Germany over 60 years ago Imogen has been working here as a sculptor. Using a collection of her own models and trial pieces she will share her passion for making.
